

Different Types Of Parasols For Garden

 thejaipurgardenparasols.com/blogs/parasols/different-types-of-parasols-for-garden

It can be difficult to choose the right parasol for your patio or backyard as there are so many designs and sizes to choose from. Parasols come in a variety of styles - some that are fixed and some that can be folded and carried easily. Parasols are large umbrellas used in open restaurants or on seashores. The canopy of a parasol is supported by a long central shaft, giving it the appearance of an umbrella. When you're out in the sun or rain on a hot day, this collapsible umbrella is the perfect solution for keeping you shielded. A parasol can be complemented with a number of accessories, such as a base, a heater or lights.

Few Different Types Of Parasols For Garden

POALA - High on Polo

With a bold combination of chestnut & cream layered on top, this timeless equestrian themed parasol looks impressive in any outdoor setting. The combination of beauty and brawn in POALA makes it a fashion statement for outdoor living.

Flora

Flora is an exquisite design led parasol that is high on style and substance. Our choice of red flowers and dancing parakeets against the green foliage makes flowers appear closer than they really are and also has a calming effect while sitting under the parasol.

Qualia

